MOTION TO ALLOW RICHARD A. POSNER, ESQUIRE, TO APPEAR AS “ADVISORY COUNSEL” ON BEHALF OF PETITIONER WILLIAM C.
BOND

Comes now petitioner pro se, William C. Bond, under FRAP 2, FRAP 21(b) and Local Rule 21(b), Local Rule 34(b), FRAP 46 and Local Rule 46(a)(b)(d) & (f), and FRAP 47(b), and if not other rules, and states:

1. Richard A. Posner, Esquire, retired from the U.S. Court of Appeals for the 7th Circuit on September 2, 2017, after more than 35 years of judicial service to the United States of America.¹

2. The reason Mr. Posner gave for his retirement was his concern over the plight and circumstances of pro se litigants.²

3. Mr. Posner's retirement drew much attention.

4. Many news stories were written about Mr. Posner's retirement, with one reporting the following statement:

"I feel equipped to make a difference," Posner told the ABA Journal, adding that he "would be glad to help out, whether as serving as a lawyer for pro se's or providing advice to them, or finding lawyers for them.”³ (Emphasis added.)

5. Reportedly, as recounted in the above-cited news story, many public groups and individuals, numbering in the 100's, attempted to solicit Mr. Posner's help.

6. Therefore, this petitioner is humbled and honored to have gained Mr. Posner's help.

7. On October 4, 2017, by email and FedEx, Mr. Posner wrote to U.S. Fourth Circuit Chief Judge Roger L. Gregory, with copies to the parties, a letter on behalf of petitioner, voicing his opinion about petitioner's pending mandamus action and concerns about the underlying litigation.

8. Since that letter, Mr. Posner and this petitioner have continued their correspondence, and Mr. Posner has expressed to petitioner his willingness to enter this mandamus action to help petitioner in any and/ or all ways possible.

9. Toward that end, Mr. Posner, a member in good standing of the New York State Bar with an unblemished record & also as a retired U.S. judge with more than 35 years of appellate court service,⁴ has asked the clerk of this court to ‘waive him in’ as member of this court’s bar so that he can participate in this case.

10. On information and belief, Mr. Posner made his request via telephone to U.S. Fourth Circuit Chief Deputy Clerk Mark Zanchelli on Monday, October 16, 2017, and his request was not granted. This motion follows and attempts to both clarify the specific request and to gain the court’s designation of Mr. Posner as “advisory counsel” in this case.

11. FRAP 46 and Local Rule 46 cover attorney admissions. Local Rule 46(a)(b)(d) &(f) must be read together when analyzing this motion.

12. Local Rule 34(b) covers the court’s “informal briefing” schedule and the subject of appointment of counsel to pro se litigants.

13. FRAP 2 and FRAP 47(b) cover the court's suspension of its rules for "good cause" and states that "A court of appeals may regulate practice in a particular case in any manner consistent with federal law, these rules, and local rules of the circuit."

14. This mandamus action is "factually loaded."

15. Petitioner knows the facts of this matter very well.⁵

16. Petitioner also well-knows that he needs the advice and opinions of an expert litigator, in real time.

17. Mr. Posner has affirmed that he is willing and able to help and assist petitioner pro se in this litigation, in all ways, including the drafting of filings and preparing petitioner for pro se oral argument. Further, Mr. Posner affirms that he will sign, as “advisory counsel,” all future filings of petitioner in this mandamus action.⁶

18. In sum, petitioner requests that the court allow him to remain pro se with Local Rule 34(b) informal briefing privileges, but with Mr. Posner to be listed upon the docket as “advisory counsel,” with all the commitments as listed above.

19. Petitioner believes that the court’s rules allow the court to modify Local Rule 46(d) to include, for this case, “advisory counsel.” Further, Petitioner believes he has showed “good cause” under FRAP 2; and, also, that it is clearly in the interest of justice and a clear matter of great public import because of the pro se aspects that the court modify the rules in this case under FRAP 47(b).

20. Finally, petitioner wishes to advise the court that promptly upon Mr. Posner’s designation and/or admission by the court to represent petitioner as “advisory counsel” an appropriate motion for substantive relief would then be filed.

⁶ Please see: Exhibit no.: 1, Affidavit of Richard A. Posner.

21. Petitioner contacted opposing counsel under Local Rule 27(a) and was informed that the government will not consent in advance and that they will review the filing before determining how to respond.

WHEREFORE, for the aforementioned reasons, petitioner prays the court grants the requested relief expeditiously.

Respectfully submitted,
